Level: undergraduate

Model: the project is embedded within university modules (PSY5262 Psychology Around the World in LTU; PSY61804 Cross-Cultural Psychology in Taylor's University (TU) and 2.5.E-PSZDR Cross-cultural health psychology in University of Opole (UO))

PROJECT FORMAT

- Psychology students from three different universities work together in multi-national groups, using virtual communication platforms, to analyse and compare different theoretical or practical aspects of psychology
- Three different countries and cultures represented in each group
- Virtual engagement, coordinated by academic staff in each university
- Outcome: group poster or online group presentation

OBJECTIVES

- Enable peer-to-peer global learning and intercultural engagement for students without having to travel
- Improve understanding on how same discipline and concepts are approached in different cultural contexts and legislative frameworks
- Enhance students' communicative abilities and professional English

The true strength in our classroom lies in the collaboration of learners not in the knowledge of one expert.
